LONG STANDING TROUBLE NOW ENDS

"MY FRIENDS SAY I'M LOOKING YEARS YOUNGER." SHE SAYS—TANLAC BRINGS RELIEF

"When I began taking Tanlac I had been down in bed for three months and just think of it, I'm feeling as strong and healthy as I ever felt in my life," said Mrs. Mollie J. Lord, who resides at the East Denver High School, Denver, Colorado, in an interview recently. Mrs. Lord has lived in Denver for the past twenty-five years. Her husband has been in charge of the East Denver High School building for twenty-two years and they are highly respected by all who know them.

"Years ago," continued Mrs. Lord, "I had an attack of bronchitis from which I contracted catarrh of the head and stomach. The trouble got a firm grip on me because for a long time I tried to make myself believe I didn't have catarrh, but at last I realized I was in a bad fix. My nose and throat were feverish and the mucus collecting in my throat would nauseate and almost choke me. My stomach got in such a bad condition I couldn't even eat potatoes or toast. In fact, everything would sour almost as soon as I had eaten it and the gas caused such a burning and fluttering around my heart that I was afraid I had heart trouble. Sleep seemed impossible for me. I would toss and roll in bed and have to jump up every little while so I could get my breath. My kidneys worried me constantly and my back hurt me so bad at times it felt like it would break in two.

"I doctored and took everything I heard of but kept getting worse until I just had to give up and go to bed. I never got any better until I began taking Tanlac and it certainly has been a God-send to me. I can tell from the way my clothes fit that I have gained all of fifteen pounds and I have not only gotten rid of the catarrh in both my head and stomach but my kidneys are also in perfect condition and I don't have any more pain in my back. I go to sleep as soon as I get in bed and sleep soundly all night long. My stomach never troubles me now and, oh, it's such a pleasure to be able to eat what I want without suffering afterwards. And since the gas has stopped forming all the burning sensation and palpitation of the heart is gone. My friends say I'm looking years younger and I can certainly endorse Tanlac in the highest terms, and expect to always have it on hand in case I should need it."

Tanlac is sold in Logan by the City Drug Co.; in Wellsville by the Wellsville Drug Co.; in Smithfield by Ritter Bros. Drug Co.; in Hyrum by Hyrum Drug Co.; in Richmond by A. A. Thomas, and in Lewiston by Lewiston Drug Co. Adv

Willie's Excuse.
The slang expression "hard-boiled egg" to denote a disagreeable person reminds us of a youngster who could not eat an egg without feeling distressed. Chided one day for speaking rudely to his aunt, he said: "I can't help it mother; she affects me just like an egg."—Boston Transcript.

SOCIALISM AT WORK

Representative Clark of Florida, furnishes one more illustration of a Democrat who cannot keep silent under the gross mismanagement and waste of this paternalistic administration. In remarks in the House a few days ago he declared that while the people of the country are putting up $700,000 for operation of buildings for housing and feeding government war workers the managers of these buildings are advertising for transient patronage at $1.75 per day for room and board, pay rent, taxes, interest, overhead expenses, etc. He denounced this as "enormous waste and extravagance in an operation entirely foreign to every function of government." But it is part of the general policy of the Democrats to let the government do everything at the expense of the tax payers.

Rather Well Put.
John was downtown with his father, who was buying a pair of shoes. He found a pair that were satisfactory and told the clerk he would take them. John looked at his father and said: "Are you sure your feet feel contented in them, daddy?"

THE WATER'S FINE.

There is not a stream in Utah, worthy of the name, but some boy has not discovered it, and it has discovered him.

No need of a bathing suit, or any other society requisite. Just nature in her own, a splash in the water, and the honest to goodness boy is in his own.

He may skip lessons, cause his teacher untold grief, forget to bring in the wood, or do his chores, but when you can see him in his native element, the old swimmin' pond, you forgive him everything, in appreciation of every boyish characteristic.

But, even here he does not quite forget his lessons of thrift, and Jack Sears in his cartoon this week shows the boys engaged in their favorite sport, and as usual improving any signs that may be in the landscape, which this time they can be well forgiven, as the youth points out the danger of not buying and saving W. Lack of Training.

Katherine's parents are trying to teach her politeness, although she is only four years old. As a result she watches opportunities to use "Scuse me" and "Please." The other day she watched another as she rocked her year-old brother. Finally little brother hiccupped. Katherine waited expectantly but in vain. Finally she could stand it no longer. "Mudder," she said, indignantly, "Bub ought to be sense enough to say 'Scuse me'."

Big Results Will Come Through Co-operation

That Utah's growth and development must come from the inside through the cooperation of her own people is the opinion expressed by prominent business men who have given careful study to the problems surrounding the industries of this state. It has been commonly known among business men for many years that freight rates in and out of Utah have been a handicap to local institutions. It has also been known that the trade territory for Utah factories wholesalers and jobbers has been limited to a very closely restricted area. For this reason, it is asserted Utah's factories cannot look to outside territory for any considerable market expansion, at least for the present. The movement now under way through the Commercial club, traffic bureau and other local organizations to bring about a readjustment of freight rates and eliminate the discrimination against Utah's industries if successful will permit state's industries not only to reach outside market territory under favorable conditions, but will also enable them to obtain supplies of raw materials on as basis more nearly equal to those with which manufacturers in the east and on the Pacific coast are favored. It is felt, however, that before this can be accomplished a long, hard fight must be carried on. The movement for more favorable freight rates has been under way in Utah for a long time and a great amount has been accomplished. The fact remains, however, according to manufacturers that under present conditions, Utah factories must depend very largely upon home trade to keep their machinery in operation.

In connection with the freight rate fight it has been suggested that if the people of the state would cooperate more closely in every way, the period over which the fight must be carried will be materially shortened. It is urged that if every Utah factory here was consistently and enthusiastically supported by Utah people the volume of business each year would be a big help to bring about a readjustment of freight rates.

How Pleasure Comes.

If you want knowledge, you must toll for it; and if pleasure, you must toll for it. Toll is the law. Pleasure comes through toll, and not by self-indulgence and inebriation. When one gets to love work, his life is a happy one.—A. J. A. A.
